

Name: cation-activated repressor protein (troR)

Function: This protein belongs to helix-turn-helix domains. The proteins from these domains act as transcription regulators.

Source: This protein doesn't have a Swissprot number on NCBI page. We did the BLAST against Swissprot database but the e-value was too high to be adding any Swissprot number. So the information about the function is from CDD.